(54) Title: COPY PREVENTING DEVICE AND PREVENTING METHOD THEREOF

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to a copy preventing device and a copy preventing method thereof which is capable of preventing copy illegally of products using a semiconductor stored a password therein. The copy of the product can be prevented by ALPU(Algorithm License Permission Uniwide) or random value. The present invention also relates to a device and method thereof which is capable of being changed an operation, structure and information of the semiconductor by constructing the ALPU and RF Reader therein.
